Said corporation shall be capable of taking and holding any estate, real and personal, necessary for the purposes of said corporation, and which may be necessary for said corporation to acquire and hold for the purpose of securing debts accrued in the regular business of said corporation; and may for the purpose of distributing and delivering electricity for the purposes as herein provided, erect and maintain lines and conduits under, in, or upon the streets and highways of any town or city under such regulations therefor as are provided under the general laws of the state. The said corporation shall also have the power to construct and maintain a plant for producing electricity by steam power as auxiliary to the water power it may develop as herein provided. Provided always that the said corporation is hereby granted no right or privilege to construct any dam which will raise the water in the Connecticut river at any point within two and one half miles of the dam of the Bellows Falls Canal Company on said river, either at low, medium or high water at any season of the year, and if two dams shall be constructed, one above and one below the mouth of West river, the waters of the Connecticut river shall not be raised by such lower dam to such height as to raise the water at the mouth of West river more than six feet higher than the normal flow of water at that point, and provided further, that none of the structures hereby authorized shall interfere with the free use of said river as a public highway for floating logs. No changes in the course of the Connecticut river caused by any dam or structure authorized by this act shall change the existing state line between Vermont and New Hampshire.

Charge to
municipality.
how fixed.

SECT. 2. Section 3 of said chapter 306 of the Laws of 1903 is hereby amended so as to read as follows: SECT. 3. This corporation shall upon application furnish to any municipality whose territory adjoins the flowage caused by said dam or dams, electricity for lighting the streets and highways, and public buildings of such municipality, and for pumping water for fire protection and domestic uses in and for such municipality, which shall be furnished to the distance of fifteen miles from said dam, in preference to any other demands for or use of such water power or electricity produced or manufactured under the provisions of this act. In case this corporation cannot agree with the officers of such municipality or municipalities as to the charge to be made for electricity furnished under the provisions of this section, either party may petition to the superior court for Cheshire county to have the amount of compensation therefor determined; and said superior court shall thereupon, on due notice, hear and determine the facts involved, either by a commission or in open court, and thereupon make such order and judgment in the premises as to the court shall seem just and reasonable. And this corporation shall then and thereupon furnish to such municipality, electricity for the purposes named in this section, under and according to the terms of such judgment and order, until the same be revised, modified or altered by said court. And in case this corporation shall negligently fail to comply with such judgment and order, it shall forfeit not less than twenty-five dollars per day as a penalty, to the other party, to be recovered by the other party in an action on this statute. This corporation shall make no discrimination in rates or terms against the town of Hinsdale or against users of power in Hinsdale.

SECT. 3. Section 4 of said chapter 306 of the Laws of 1903 is hereby amended so as to read as follows: SECT. 4. If in the erection, maintenance, or continuance of said dam or dams, wings, retaining walls, canals and water mills, it becomes necessary to enter upon or take or to flow water on to or damage the lands or property of any other person or persons or corporation, and this corporation cannot agree with the owner or owners thereof as to the necessity for and damage to be paid therefor, either party may apply by petition to the superior court for the county of Cheshire to have the necessity therefor determined and the damage that may have been or may be done thereby, assessed, and then and thereupon the same proceedings shall be had in the premises as are provided in sections 14 to 18 inclusive, of chapter 142 of the Public Statutes of New Hampshire, as amended by chapter 50 of the Acts of 1893 relative to flowage. And upon payment or tender of the damage and costs, so ascertained and determined, and not before, this corporation may proceed and continue to enter upon, take and flow water onto said land and property, and erect and maintain such structure. Provided, however, that said Connecticut River Power Company shall never take or seek to acquire any lands or other property north of the railroad station at Brattleboro, Vermont, already or hereafter owned or appropriated for necessary railroad purposes by the Connecticut River Railroad Company or by the Vermont Valley Railroad, or which may be required for the double track of said railroad between the villages of Bellows Falls and Brattleboro, Vermont, except the necessary right of flowage, in which case the right of way, embankments and other railroad structures and property of said railroads are to be properly and effectively protected against damage by rubble, masonry or otherwise, as provided in this act; and provided further that the dam of this corporation shall not be flooded until the embankments, road-bed, ways, culverts and bridges of any and all railroads affected, and the highways and bridges in the towns of Hinsdale and Chesterfield, and the highway bridges across the Connecticut river between Walpole and Westminster, and between Hinsdale and Brattleboro and Brattleboro and Chesterfield are properly and effectively protected against damage, by rubble, masonry or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the engineers of said respective railroad companies, and, as to said highways and bridges, to the satisfaction of the selectmen of the towns of Walpole, Hinsdale, Chesterfield and Brattleboro, and in case of disagreement as to the method and construction of said protection and its effectiveness or the necessity therefor, the same shall be determined by a competent board of engineers, experienced and qualified in railroad and bridge and road construction and work; one to be named by this corporation, one by the railroad company or town interested, and the third to be chosen by them. Or in case of such disagreement, the railroad company or town affected may, if it so elects, petition the court of chancery of Vermont or the superior court in New Hampshire, which courts respectively shall determine the questions in controversy in such way as the law and the rules of court may provide; and the parties shall have the right of appeal on the questions of law to the supreme court in each state, as the laws of said states may respectively provide. Any changes necessary in the construction of bridges including the said Walpole bridge and Brattleboro and Hinsdale bridge and Brattleboro and Chesterfield bridge, culverts or road-bed and highways to be made by the railroad company or town respectively interested, or the lessees of said railroad companies, subject to the foregoing provisions, and at the expense of this corporation and within a reasonable time after notice of the requirements and after security has been provided and given for its payment. It shall be the duty of the Connecticut River Power Company, at all times, to fully, properly and efficiently protect the railroads, highways and highway bridges mentioned in this section, and to compensate said railroad corporations and towns, respectively, for all injury or damage sustained by them, or either of them, in consequence of the construction or operation of any dam, dams, or any other work done or structure erected by this corporation.

Assessment
of damages by power lines.

SECT. 4. If in the erection and maintenance of lines for the transmission of power developed by it, under the provisions of its charter, as amended, it becomes necessary for said corporation, The Connecticut River Power Company, of New Hampshire, to enter upon or cross with such lines of power transmission the lands or property of any other person or persons or corporation, and this corporation cannot agree with the owner or owners thereof, as to the necessity for and damage to be paid therefor, either party may proceed for the determination of the same by petition to the superior court for Cheshire county, and said superior court shall thereupon on due notice hear and determine the facts involved either by a commission or in open court, and thereupon make such order and judgment in the premises as to the court may seem just and reasonable; and upon the payment or tender of the damages and costs ascertained and determined by such proceedings, this corporation may proceed and continue to erect and maintain lines for power transmission on such lands and property. But this corporation shall not have the right to erect or maintain lines for transmission of electricity along the right of way of any railroad, without its consent, except as it may be reasonably necessary to cross such right of way, in which case, such line of transmission shall cross directly over and shall be constructed at the point of such crossing in such a manner as to safely and securely protect persons and property of such railroad and any lines of telegraph and telephone along such right of way.

SECT. 5. The said corporation, The Connecticut River Power Company, of New Hampshire, in the exercise of the powers granted it by its charter, as amended, may hold the flow of said river in storage as may be necessary for the reasonable development and use of such water power, but it shall not interfere with the free use of such river for the purpose of floating logs thereon.

Storage of water of river.

SECT. 6. Section 11 of said chapter 306 of the Laws of 1903, is hereby amended so as to read as follows: SECT. 11. This act shall be within the control of the legislature at any time to amend or repeal as the public good shall require. If said corporation shall not before December 1, 1908, commence the construction of a dam under said charter then this act shall be void. And if the construction of the dam opposite the town of Vernon, Vermont, is not commenced by December 1, 1908, and completed within five years from that time, all rights to erect a dam south of Brattleboro under the provisions of this charter shall cease. But any delay in construction thereof caused by an injunction shall not be included in such five years. It is hereby provided that the power house used for the development and generation of electricity shall be located in the town of Hinsdale, but, if it shall be found that said power house can not, with reasonable safety and reasonable cost, be built in the town of Hinsdale, the corporation may apply to the selectmen of Hinsdale, who shall have the power to consent that said power house may be built in Vernon, Vermont, and, upon the consent of said selectmen in writing being obtained, the foregoing limitation upon the location of the power house shall not be applicable. If said selectmen do not so consent, the corporation may appeal from their decision to the superior court for the county of Cheshire, and said court may hear the parties in open court and may decide the question whether said power house, under the foregoing conditions as to reasonable safety and reasonable cost, shall be built in Hinsdale or may be built in Vernon, Vermont. If the selectmen do so consent any twenty-five voters in said Hinsdale may join in a like appeal from their decision to the superior court. If it shall be finally determined in accordance with the provisions hereof that said power house may be built in Vernon, Vt., the corporation shall, within two years after said final decision, pay to the town of Hinsdale the sum of fifty thousand dollars in compensation for the loss of taxable property which Hinsdale will sustain by reason of the power house not being built within the limits of said town.

Capital stock.

SECT. 7. Section 5 of said chapter 306 of the Laws of 1903 is hereby amended so as to read as follows: SECT. 5. The capital stock of this corporation shall be two hundred thousand dollars, which may be increased by a majority vote of its stockholders to any sum not to exceed two million dollars. Said capital stock shall be divided into shares of one hundred dollars each.

rights of flowage.

SECT. 8. If this corporation or any corporation with which it may merge or consolidate as provided in section 10 of chapter 306 of the Laws of 1903, shall desire to construct a dam at any point below the mouth of the Ashuelot river for the purpose of storing water to control the flow of the river, it shall have the right so to do, and if it shall procure and exercise the right to construct a dam across the Connecticut river at any point in the state of Massachusetts, it shall have the right of flowage in the State of New Hampshire subject to the conditions and limitations as provided in sections 2, 3 and 4 of said chapter 306 of the Laws of 1903 as amended by this act except that it shall have no right to raise the water by any dam authorized by this section at the mouth of the Ashuelot river, either at low, medium or high water, and shall have no right to take therefor any land now owned or hereafter acquired by the Connecticut River Railroad Company for necessary railroad purposes. And it shall have no rights under this section until it shall have built a dam under this charter opposite the town of Vernon, Vermont, north of the mouth of the Ashuelot river. Said corporation may make contracts with other corporations with reference to the furnishing of electrical energy to said other corporations or within the territory served by them.

Consolidated
corporation
may issue
bonds.

SECT. 9. Section ten of said chapter 306 of the Laws of 1903 is hereby amended by adding thereto the following words: The corporation resulting from such consolidation or merger, whether it be this corporation or another, shall have the authority to issue bonds and stock to an amount equal to the total authorized amount of the bonds and stock of the corporations that are merged or consolidated.
